Help honor Tory’s memory by impacting the lives of Criminal Justice students...

Donor Information

Name(s) ________________________________

Home Address ____________________________

City ________________________________

State/Zip ________________________________

Business Address __________________________

City ________________________________

State/Zip ________________________________

Business Phone ____________________________

Title/Position ______________________________

E-mail Address ____________________________

For More Information:

Contact:

Tena Burley
Director of Development
tena.burley@unt.edu
940.369.8308

Peggy Tobolowsky
Professor & Chair, Criminal Justice
peggy.tobolowsky@unt.edu
940.565.4085

Eric Fritsch
Professor & Associate Chair, Criminal Justice
eric.fritsch@unt.edu
940.565.4954

For more information about the Criminal Justice Program at UNT, visit www.pacs.unt.edu/criminal-justice

Department of Criminal Justice

Tory J. Caeti

Memorial Scholarship Fund

1966-2006

To honor Tory’s memory by providing scholarships for students obtaining their Master of Science in Criminal Justice degree.

“A life is not important except for the impact it has on other lives.”

~Jackie Robinson

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH * TEXAS™

UNT UNIVERSITY OF NORTH TEXAS
Discover the power of ideas.
I pledge to make a contribution to the UNT Foundation for the Caeti Memorial Scholarship Fund in the amount of (please check one of the following):

$5,000
$2,500
$1,000
$500
$250
$125
Other __________________ (please specify amount)

To be paid:
(in a lump sum or in installments over a maximum of 5 years)

□ Monthly for ______ year(s)  □ Quarterly for ______ year(s)
□ Annually for ______ year(s)  □ One-time contribution

Payment Information

Please check one of the following:

□ Enclosed is my check for
Please make checks payable to UNT Foundation

□ Electronic Funds Transfer
You will be contacted for more information.

□ Credit Card (Visa, Mastercard, American Express, Discover) Please fill in all information below:

Card Type __________________________

Name as it appears on the card __________________

Account Number _______________________

Expiration Date ________________________

Billing Address for Card __________________

Enclosed is my check for

Please make checks payable to UNT Foundation

Robert W. Taylor, Ph.D.
Executive Director, Caruth Police Institute

I first met Dr. Caeti as a graduate student at UNT. He was always encouraging and enthusiastic with my papers and projects. When I retired after a lengthy career in the FBI and became an adjunct faculty member at UNT, Tory made my transition an easy and happy one. I have so many fond memories of Tory as a teacher and colleague. That is the reason I am donating to this scholarship fund in his memory. He brought much joy into the world; I trust that future graduate students will be as gifted and successful in a criminal justice career.

Lee Latham
Retired FBI Special Agent

Tory Caeti was a person who, in profound and lasting ways, touched both students and staff here at the Institute for Law Enforcement Administration. Tory was a first-rate educator with an outstanding dedication to his craft. His memory has been preserved in the Dr. Tory J. Caeti Award for Academic Excellence, an honor presented annually to a graduate of the ILEA Management College.

Daniel P. Carlson
Director, Institute for Law Enforcement Administration

Tory touched the lives of thousands of students.
Teaching was his true calling. As the quote by Henry Brooks Adams says, “A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.” Although Tory is gone, his impact will last forever.

Tory was a beloved husband, father, son, friend, colleague, and professor. His death left an immeasurable void in many people’s lives. This scholarship honors his legacy.

Scholarship Description

This scholarship is being established for first-year students in the Master of Science in Criminal Justice degree program. In addition to academic requirements, students will establish their eligibility for the scholarship by submitting an essay. The essay will describe their prior Criminal Justice career experience and service activities and why they desire a career in Criminal Justice and merit the scholarship. A department-based committee will determine the scholarship recipient(s) each year.

His Impact

Tory was much more than one of the best of the bright, young scholars of criminal justice. His infectious personality dominated any conversation, and he could impress any audience with his quick wit and sheer brilliance. I never laughed as hard as I did with Tory! His death left me both professionally and personally with a void that simply will never be filled.

Robert W. Taylor, Ph.D.
Executive Director, Caruth Police Institute

About Tory

Tory was much more than one of the best of the bright, young scholars of criminal justice. His infectious personality dominated any conversation, and he could impress any audience with his quick wit and sheer brilliance. I never laughed as hard as I did with Tory! His death left me both professionally and personally with a void that simply will never be filled.

Robert W. Taylor, Ph.D.
Executive Director, Caruth Police Institute

I first met Dr. Caeti as a graduate student at UNT. He was always encouraging and enthusiastic with my papers and projects. When I retired after a lengthy career in the FBI and became an adjunct faculty member at UNT, Tory made my transition an easy and a happy one. I have so many fond memories of Tory as a teacher and colleague. That is the reason I am donating to this scholarship fund in his memory. He brought much joy into the world; I trust that future graduate students will be as gifted and successful in a criminal justice career.

Lee Latham
Retired FBI Special Agent

Tory Caeti was a person who, in profound and lasting ways, touched both students and staff here at the Institute for Law Enforcement Administration. Tory was a first-rate educator with an outstanding dedication to his craft. His memory has been preserved in the Dr. Tory J. Caeti Award for Academic Excellence, an honor presented annually to a graduate of the ILEA Management College.

Daniel P. Carlson
Director, Institute for Law Enforcement Administration

Tory touched the lives of thousands of students.
Teaching was his true calling. As the quote by Henry Brooks Adams says, “A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.” Although Tory is gone, his impact will last forever.

Tory was a beloved husband, father, son, friend, colleague, and professor. His death left an immeasurable void in many people’s lives. This scholarship honors his legacy.

Scholarship Description

This scholarship is being established for first-year students in the Master of Science in Criminal Justice degree program. In addition to academic requirements, students will establish their eligibility for the scholarship by submitting an essay. The essay will describe their prior Criminal Justice career experience and service activities and why they desire a career in Criminal Justice and merit the scholarship. A department-based committee will determine the scholarship recipient(s) each year.

His Impact

Tory was much more than one of the best of the bright, young scholars of criminal justice. His infectious personality dominated any conversation, and he could impress any audience with his quick wit and sheer brilliance. I never laughed as hard as I did with Tory! His death left me both professionally and personally with a void that simply will never be filled.

Robert W. Taylor, Ph.D.
Executive Director, Caruth Police Institute

I first met Dr. Caeti as a graduate student at UNT. He was always encouraging and enthusiastic with my papers and projects. When I retired after a lengthy career in the FBI and became an adjunct faculty member at UNT, Tory made my transition an easy and a happy one. I have so many fond memories of Tory as a teacher and colleague. That is the reason I am donating to this scholarship fund in his memory. He brought much joy into the world; I trust that future graduate students will be as gifted and successful in a criminal justice career.

Lee Latham
Retired FBI Special Agent

Tory Caeti was a person who, in profound and lasting ways, touched both students and staff here at the Institute for Law Enforcement Administration. Tory was a first-rate educator with an outstanding dedication to his craft. His memory has been preserved in the Dr. Tory J. Caeti Award for Academic Excellence, an honor presented annually to a graduate of the ILEA Management College.

Daniel P. Carlson
Director, Institute for Law Enforcement Administration

Tory touched the lives of thousands of students.
Teaching was his true calling. As the quote by Henry Brooks Adams says, “A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.” Although Tory is gone, his impact will last forever.

Tory was a beloved husband, father, son, friend, colleague, and professor. His death left an immeasurable void in many people’s lives. This scholarship honors his legacy.

Scholarship Description

This scholarship is being established for first-year students in the Master of Science in Criminal Justice degree program. In addition to academic requirements, students will establish their eligibility for the scholarship by submitting an essay. The essay will describe their prior Criminal Justice career experience and service activities and why they desire a career in Criminal Justice and merit the scholarship. A department-based committee will determine the scholarship recipient(s) each year.

His Impact

Tory was much more than one of the best of the bright, young scholars of criminal justice. His infectious personality dominated any conversation, and he could impress any audience with his quick wit and sheer brilliance. I never laughed as hard as I did with Tory! His death left me both professionally and personally with a void that simply will never be filled.

Robert W. Taylor, Ph.D.
Executive Director, Caruth Police Institute

I first met Dr. Caeti as a graduate student at UNT. He was always encouraging and enthusiastic with my papers and projects. When I retired after a lengthy career in the FBI and became an adjunct faculty member at UNT, Tory made my transition an easy and a happy one. I have so many fond memories of Tory as a teacher and colleague. That is the reason I am donating to this scholarship fund in his memory. He brought much joy into the world; I trust that future graduate students will be as gifted and successful in a criminal justice career.

Lee Latham
Retired FBI Special Agent

Tory Caeti was a person who, in profound and lasting ways, touched both students and staff here at the Institute for Law Enforcement Administration. Tory was a first-rate educator with an outstanding dedication to his craft. His memory has been preserved in the Dr. Tory J. Caeti Award for Academic Excellence, an honor presented annually to a graduate of the ILEA Management College.

Daniel P. Carlson
Director, Institute for Law Enforcement Administration

Tory touched the lives of thousands of students.
Teaching was his true calling. As the quote by Henry Brooks Adams says, “A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.” Although Tory is gone, his impact will last forever.

Tory was a beloved husband, father, son, friend, colleague, and professor. His death left an immeasurable void in many people’s lives. This scholarship honors his legacy.

Scholarship Description

This scholarship is being established for first-year students in the Master of Science in Criminal Justice degree program. In addition to academic requirements, students will establish their eligibility for the scholarship by submitting an essay. The essay will describe their prior Criminal Justice career experience and service activities and why they desire a career in Criminal Justice and merit the scholarship. A department-based committee will determine the scholarship recipient(s) each year.